COUNCIL MUST PASS THE ORDINANCE MAKING LICENSE $750.

Mayor Declares That Only the Su preme Court Can Make Him Obey the Obnoxious Cleary Law if the Present Ordinance Is Killed.

At the request of Mayor Jones an ordinance was introduced in the council last night raising the licenses of saloonkeepers from $250 to $750 a year. It was referred to the finance committee.

On the passage or non-passage of this ordinance depends a legal fight that will not only test the legality of the Cleary bill, raising police salaries, but hold up for an indefinite period the pay of the police department. Mayor Jones has decided to place the issue squarely before the council and to let the onus of a burdensome charge on the city finances rest on the members who defeat the measure in case

"The Cleary bill places a financial burden on the city that it cannot carry with our present resources," said the mayor last night, "and it is necessary to find a new source of income. It is the saloons render necessary the maintenance of a large police force. The only is to raise saloon licenses and if the council refuses to pass this measure I shall refuse to sign a sinwle police department pay warrant on the

The passage of the ordinance means an added revenue to the city of about $150,000. There are 410 saloons in the city, but over one-fourth of them will be unable to meet the additional $500 license fee, and will have der His Wagon, Beach come by Hent.

J. W. Grimes, of 4114 Washington street. was struck by a north bound cable car at Ninth and Walnut streets about noon yesterday and was painfully injured about the chest, back and right side. Grimes was standing on the tracks waiting for a south bound Westport car to approach and did not see the north bound car until it was upon him. Dr. Manahan dressed his injuries and sent him home. Ezra Ferguson, a teamster living at Ezra Ferguson, a teamster living at Twenty-fourth street and Grand avenue, was cut and bruised all over his body yesterday by the overturning of a dirt wagon he was employed in driving. Ferguson was driving his team down a steep embankment on Eighth street, between Lydia and Tracy avenues, where an excavation is being made, when the wheels of the wagon slipped sidewise and turned the vehicle over. Ferguson was caught beneath the vehicle and was cut and bruised about the face, chest and right side. Dr. Manahan dressed his injuries.

C:rus Beach, a negro employed in the city street cleaning department, was overcome by heat at Twelfth and Walnut streets at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was removed to police headquarters, where he was attended by Dr. Manahan and later removed to his home. Beach was in bad shape for several hours.

IMPLEMENT MEN CONFER. Will Decide Time and Place for Next Annual Meeting of the Association.

The directors of the Western Retail Implement Dealers' Association met yesterday at the Coates House, with President A L. L. Scoville, Seneca, Kas.; secretary, H. J. Hodge, Abilene, Kas. They will remain in session to-day. The association is interested in the outcome of a suit in Kansas brought by the Lumbermen's exchange and the Reciprocal underwriters to test the salidity of the recent law passed by the last Kansas legislature, taxing insurance cominles 10 per cent on premiums on insur-ice written outside the state of Kansas. The insurance organization, formed by the Lumbermen's exchange, claims to have a peculiar status by which it should escape the tax. It is not incorporated. The risks on the property of members are taken by the association on a reciprocal basis.

J. W. Garaey, of Kansas City, manager of the Reciprocal underwriters of the Lumbermen's exchange, gave a report yesterday on the suit still pending in the court at Columbus. Kas. It was brought in behalf of the Lumbermen's exchange and attacks the constitutionality of the law.

The time of the next annual meeting will be decided at to-day's meeting. It has been customary to meet in Kansas City about the middle of January each year, and no deviation is looked for. insurance organization, formed by

She was taken to the power house at Ninth and Washington streets, and, after a scolding, was allowed to go home.

FIRST BREAK IN STRIKE.

One of the Bosses Signs the Agreement and the Striking Electrical

The first break in the strike of the Electrical Workers' union of inside wiremen was made yesterday about 6 o'clock, when J. W. Mason, signed the agreement as to scale of wages and hours of work. Immediately upon the understanding being reached an order was issued for all men employed on work being done by Mr. Ma-son's house to report for work in the morn-son's house to report for work in the morning.

The proposed scale calls for 5 to 19 cents increase an hour for first-class workmen and first-class helpers; for second and third class helpers, an increase of 2½ to 7½ cents over the wages paid before. This brings the wages to 39 cents an hour for first-class workmen and grading down to 15 cents for third-class helpers. This, some of the bosses say, is more than electrical workers are worth.

One of the bosses made the statement yesterday that about five men out of the union were capable of taking charge of a job of work.

A CITY MORGUE.

Alderman Graham's Ordinance Passes Lower House and Goes to the Mayor.

Alderman Graham's ordinance, appropriating $400 to fit up a cold storage room at the city hospital to be used as a city morgue, passed the lower house of the council last night and will become a law when signed by the mayor. The measure was introduced by Mr. Graham in order to insure proper burial of pauper dead, and to make it certain that the bodies of un-known dead were kept a sufficient length of time to give relatives or friends a chance o identify missing ones. Hereafter pauper dead and unknown dead vill be sent to the city hospital for deten tion for at least ten days and where rela-tives appear and demand decent burial the city undertaker having the contract to bury city dead will have to carry out his contract to the very letter.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

The benefit concert given in honor of Mr. John Behr, conductor of the Kansas City Symphony orchestra, at the Auditorium this measure I shall refuse to sign a single police department pay warrant on the grounds that the Cleary bill is dilegal. Police warrants are valuless unless signed by the mayor and not a member of the department can draw his pay until my name is attached to the warrant. It will then be necessary to make an appeal to the appellate court or to the supreme court to test the validity of the Cleary law and that means an interminable delay.

"I know that without an added saloon revenue the city will not have money chough to pay the increase in salaries in the police department, and I will take no chances on signing pay warrants when I know the money is not in the treasury to meet them.

"The matter is now entirely in the hands of the council passes the ordinance and the Democratic party feels that the saloons are overburdened with license, that party has overburdened with license, that party has the remedy in its own hands. The county license is $600 a year and the county commissioners have the power to reduce it to $250, or even $100, if necessary. The Democratic party feels that the saloons are overburdened with license, that party has the remedy in its own hands. The county license is $600 a year and the county commissioners have the power to reduce it to $250, or even $100, if necessary. The Democratic party is responsible for the Cleary bill and ought not to object to removing this burden from the party supporters."

As far as the upper house of the council is concerned there is no doubt but the measure will be passed by a unanimous vote. In the lower house it will be opposed by Councilmen Pendergast and Moran, both saloonkeepers, and who will probably receive the support of the often pemocratic party is responsible for the Cleary bill and ought not to object to removing this burden from the party supporters."

CACCUAL TICE means that city employes who want to sell their pay warrants can do so, provided they want to take the chances of getting discharged for doing so. An ordinance was introduced by Alderman Harnden repealing the ordinance to employes of the street and water depay employes of the sur-partments once a week.

Vehicle Tax Ordinance Killed.

The vehicle tax ordinance, assessing a tax of $1 a year on one-horse vehicles and $2 on two-horse vehicles, met an untimely end in the lower house of the common council last night, when it was killed by a two-thirds vote in saits of the lobbying two-thirds vote, in spite of the lobbying of Superintendent of Streets Sloan, who wanted it passed, as it would add about $20,000 a year to the street department fund. When the fate of the bill became apparent Mr. Sloan sadly remarked, "As a lobbyist I am a dismal failure."

Vacation of Genesee Street.

An ordinance vacating Genesee street from Nineteenth to Liberty, for the benefit of the stock yards and the Burlington road, was introduced in the council last night and referred. Alderman Peck explained that the principal beneficiary by the vacating of the street would be the Burlington road, which had promised to give $12,500 for the construction of the Allen avenue viaduct, provided it was given the street.

City Hall Notes. Sixth street, Broadway to Bluff, is to be paved with asphalt, the property owners having notified the board of public works that they wished such material used. Some one fired a bullet through a window in the mayor's office some time Sunday night. The glass was shattered and the bullet was found on the office floor Mon-day morning.

T. F. Berriman, secret service agent, who deals in all kinds of strange and peculiar currency, was the next man to wrestle with the problem. He has an expert's knowledge of counterfeit money, but this was different. The bill was about three inches square. The printing was very distinct and read: "This bill entitles the bearer to receive thirty Spanish milled dollars or the value thereof in gold or silver according to a resolution passed by congress at Philadelphia, September 26, 1778." A picture of a Spanish dollar with the words "Si Recti Facias," appeared at the left of the printing. The ornamental border contained the words "Continental Currency" and "United States."

In the upper left hand corner was the mber of the bill in red ink, very distinct, 20,205,199. Equally distinct were the signatures at the bottom, J. Gray, John Helm. Mr. Berriman could not decide offhand what to do. He would like to know if anyone in Kansas City can enlighten him. Historians, financiers and numismatists have an opportunity to distinguish themselves. W. A. Rule, cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, expressed the opinion last night that the currency was not good now. W. B. Clarke, who is well acquainted with the money history of this country and whose business transactions have made him familiar with every sort of currency and commercial paper, expressed doubts as to the value of the $30 piece, except as a curiosity.

Yesterday morning he secured permission from the owner of the building at 919 Walnut street to sell jewelry and a small line of notions in a hallway of the building. A few hours later a man named Charles Jones came along and attempted to drive the boy out of his quarters. Jones picked up the rude table on which young Morgan had his wares displayed and threw it into the street. Morgan then jerked a leg from the table and began beating Jones over the head with it. The lad was holding his own when Officer Charles Snead appeared on the scene and arrested Jones on a charge of disorderly conduct. He gave bond for his appearance in the police court this morning.

CHEAP GROCERIES ARE NOT ALWAYS ECONOMY

HE QUALITY OF THE FOODS YOU PURCHASE IS MOST IMPORTANT FOR TWO reasons: First, your health is conserved; and, secondly, all, not a portion only, is available for your table if the quality is strictly high-grade. Good, pure, wholesome food products are the only kind we sell. Every purchase we make is examined with the utmost care, and its quality must be up to our uniform standard of excellence, or it can find no place in our grocery department. No culls, no seconds, no suspicious or doubtful brands have shelf room here. We guarantee every ounce to be strictly first-class in every respect. During these days when our city is thronged with visitors and the table wants are increased to such an enormous extent, we are making prices that mean a tremendous saving to those who are wise and thrifty enough to avail themselves of them. Don't let this week pass without at least a visit of inspection to our bright, active, 5th floor.

BURLINGTON ROUTE SPECIALS. CONTEST VAILE

HEIRS OF THE LATE CAPITALISI SUE THE BENEFICIARIES.

laim Undue Influence Was Used Ask That Administrator Sea Be Removed-A Large Estate.

Suit was filed in the circuit court yes terday to contest the will of the late H. M. Vaile. The plaintiffs are J. J. Vaile, Amanda Vaile and other heirs of the deceased. The defendants are beneficiaries of the will H. M. Vaile died in 1894, and was considered wealthy. He lived in a handsome house in the northern portion of Independence, and owned extensive landed estates When his will was probated it was found that he had written it himself. It bequeathed property to various relatives and left an annuity to Olivia Sprague, to continue through her lifetime. Other proper-ties were left to Flora C. Wilsea, Julia B. Merrill, Grace E. Merrill and to the Kan-sas City Ladies' college, provided that in-stitution changed its name to the Vaile in-stitute.

stitution changed its name to the Vaile institute.

As matters progressed John A. Sea was named as administrator and he proceeded to give bond and administer the estate. It also developed that the deceased left not only a will drawn up by himself, but blanket mortgages and notes owing to other people. H. M. Vaile was interested with Stephen Dorsey in Star route mail contracts and among other developments was a big claim of the government against Mr. Vaile. Notes and partnership arrangements appeared at intervals, which involved the estate heavily.

The plaintiffs claim that the will has never been properly attested or executed and not probated according to the law. A paper has been filed in the probate court by the plaintiffs asking for the removal of the administrator pending the suit. The plaintiffs also allege that undue influence was used when the will was made and that the mental and physical condition of Mr. Vaile was such as to incapacitate him for making a legal will.
